

THE THIRD NORTHERN IRELAND MINISTRY ASSEMBLY

TRIED & TESTED

17th–18th November 2008
Richhill Presbyterian Church
Richhill Co Armagh

SPEAKERS

Peter Adam

Melvin Tinker

John Woodside

WE LOOK FORWARD to welcoming Melvin Tinker from St John Newland in Hull. Melvin is the author of a number of books including Wisdom to Live By and Why Do Bad Things Happen To Good People. With the theme of suffering in mind, he will give four expositions from Job. Peter Adam, author and Principal of Ridley College Melbourne in Australia, will speak on 'Suffering and Satan' from 2 Corinthians and will also explain the skills required to help preachers find the 'big idea' of a book. Joining Melvin and Peter will be John Woodside from Drogheda Presbyterian Church who will share some of the joys and challenges of ministering God's Word in the local church.

The aim of our assembly is to encourage and help preachers to give themselves to the indispensable work of presenting the Lord Jesus Christ to believers and unbelievers, to all ages, and to all kinds of people. We want to encourage a fresh commitment to expository preaching that will fill our churches with a hunger for God and his Word and lead to a new desire for mission.

We look forward to welcoming delegates from far and near. We firmly believe that when the Bible is opened and taught faithfully and relevantly the voice of God is heard in a living and powerful way. We therefore seek to encourage those engaged in preaching to see the expounding of Scripture as the pressing need in today's church and help equip them in the exacting work involved in such a ministry. While the assembly, therefore, is mainly for those in current full-time preaching ministries, others are welcome, especially students and spouses of Christian workers.
